

Achievement Awards this week ...

- Ibtisam Amazing reading this week!
- Younes Bravely walking along a balance beam
- Sam For using two switches in ICT and great participation during music workshops today

Well done to everyone for coping with the fire alarms going off today! Everyone was very brave!

A Proud Moment

I recently received a lovely email from a visitor to Greenmead that I wanted to share with you all;

“Just a short note to provide some feedback on a very positive exchange that I saw when I visited the school for a meeting last week. I was waiting in the reception area when a member of staff entered with a pupil to meet his parent. The member of staff was full of enthusiasm and praise for the pupil because he had managed to hold his head up independently for 5 minutes (which surprised his mum!) and she produced a photo of him doing this (a copy was in his bag). It was brilliant to see the pupil, parents and the Greenmead team celebrating the pupil’s achievements and progress that morning. For me, this exchange provided an excellent example of Greenmead’s vision operating in practice which is way I didn’t want to let it pass without a mention.”

This example of excellence makes me feel so proud to be the Headteacher at Greenmead!

Creepy Crawly Sensory Nature Trail

Last week Titan travelled to Holly Lodge to take part in a Creepy Crawly Sensory experience! We walked around the nature trail and found special boxes that contained different insects. We tasted honey from the bees, found leaves and flowers for the worms to eat, went digging for worms in soil and then we made a home for the ants by making tunnels.

We love Reading!

As well as enjoying World Book day last week you are also invited to a family reading workshop.

Ronald Ross School are hosting an after school story and craft event for families being run by the Love to Learn to Read charity.

This is an opportunity for whole families to enjoy stories and crafts together. Greenmead families are invited to attend too.

21st March at 3.30pm

You will need to take your child and stay with them for the event

“Thank you” from governors

Each term the governors of Greenmead monitor pupil attendance and they would like to thank parents/carers for working with the school and Public Health in the recent outbreak of flu. Your support meant that we were able to contain the virus resulting in very few children missing school and avoiding a situation where the school needed to be closed. They are also very pleased that the attendance of pupils over the last year has greatly improved.
