Evaluated IEPs home/released on EFL

17th-21st February

HALF TERM holiday

16th March

Spring Term Parents’ Evening

Thank you to the parents who joined us for our joint Parent Time meeting with parents from Ronald Ross.

We shared some of the exciting opportunities that have already happened between the two schools, what we have planned in the future and had time for Q&A.

It was great to have feedback from a Ronald Ross teacher on the joint lunch time clubs, feedback from parents from both schools and feedback from senior leaders in both schools.

Our next joint event will be on 5th March for World Book Day.

We are very excited to announce a joint summer fair happening on Saturday 11th July.

We hope to have regular joint meetings with parents as a way of sharing in our school community and would like many more parents to join us.

Rights Respecting Schools Award

Since our last meeting the steering group have sought views of staff across the school on their knowledge of children’s rights, how they feel about working at Greenmead and if they agree or disagree that pupil voice is strong in school. Today we met to learn about the different articles in the Convention and made posters that will go on display in school to raise awareness of the children’s rights. Next week we will be further developing our knowledge about other articles.

Thought/Meme for the Week

If your child needs symbols, photos or a communication book/device to help them understand or communication, make sure it is always nearby and easy to get to.

Your child needs to learn that those symbols help them get their message across and supports their 'voice'.

If you take it away, you take away their voice!

Zones of Regulation

Coffee Afternoon...

Following on from our Zones of Regulation training at the start of this half term, we are running a coffee afternoon for Parents and Carers who need a little extra help with using The Zones at home.

If you have questions, and would like some help with trouble-shooting, please come along on:

Wednesday 12th February at 13:00-14:30

Many thanks Hayley (SaLT) and Cheska (OT)
