Shoutout to Jade for being overall amazing in supporting Mercury Team and the children through the Spring transition. Also shoutout to Marisha and Kate for developing their ability to lead a session and contributing ideas for our daily routine and activities.

Shoutout to Charlotte, Natalie, Illy, Holly, Kay and Mags for working tirelessly this week to ensure fantastic learning is happening and keeping the children smiling.

Thank you to Roxanne for doing the staffing jigsaw work every morning to support staffing in classes which supports pupils being able to continue to learn effectively.

World Book Day Celebrations

Today in assembly we read another Oliver Jeffers' book; 'The incredible book eating boy'.

Each class was a crayon colour from Oliver Jeffers' book 'The day the crayons quit'. Great to have the pupils, staff and even one of our governors join in with the theme. Alongside class based world book day activities we enjoyed a virtual 'live' reading of the book with different staff from across the school reading parts in the story via our virtual assembly into classes. Thank you to Hannah for inspiring us all to read lots more!

Excited by our new ICT resources

Can you tell we are very excited about our new ICT resources? We've got new iPads and adapted keyboards to develop pupils' ICT skills.
